

What Is Natural? Glass Matter Cycle

Explanation: Rocks and minerals in the earth's soil are eroded and weathered over time by water to produce sand. Sand is one of the main ingredients used in the production of glass products. Glass can be recycled for a period of time, but eventually all glass will decompose and/or break down returning to the earth's resources once again.

Examples: drinking glass, jar, bottle, window pane, computer screen, silicone computer chip